

On school days,
a mild-mannered
second grader.

On weekends,
Super Snorkel.

Joey, Seabrook resident since 2002

Joey's a typical 7-year-old. He spends his weekends covered in sand and salt water. And he couldn't be happier. He knows every inch of beach around here. Probably because he's been tearing up and down these shores since he could walk. He thinks he's a superhero. We think he's a Seabrooker.
